Detective Is Leaving No Stone Unturned in Searching for Truth About Murder of Mary Phagan

MAY SEEK INTERVIEWS

Chief Lanford Says He Is Willing to "Swap Secrets" if Burns Will Show Proper Attitude

That William J. Burns is making his investigation of the Mary Phagan murder case "from the ground up" has been demonstrated by the movements of the famous detective both on Monday and Tuesday.

Monday he visited the National Penicil factory, the scene of the crime, and went over the physical points in the case. Tuesday at the office of his agency here he interviewed at length W. W. (Boots) Rogers, a young man who was with the police when they found the body of the slain girl.

Rogers was one of the principal witnesses at the trial. He was his automobile when they received the murder call. Later he went in his machine to the residence of his sister-in-law, Miss Grace Hix, who worked in the pencil factory, and she was the first person to identify the body as that of Mary Phagan. Rogers, a former bailiff, was assisting the police during the first investigation of the case.

Burns, before his arrival in the city, carefully read the evidence in the case and has shown himself thoroughly familiar with the printed records by the questions he asked when he was shown over the factory by Captain C. W. Burke, a detective in the employ of the Burke defense.

his work is simply to the effect that he is going to make a thorough and exhaustive investigation after which he will either accept or reject the case. SEEK FRANK AGAIN.

Monday afternoon he held a conference with Leo M. Frank in the Tower and Tuesday morning he appeared at the trial. On this last he was accompanied by Don J. Seligman, manager of the New York World, but they remained in Frank's cell only a short time. On leaving the Tower Burns said he would talk to Frank again during the day.

Frank after the conference had little to say to newspaper men except to again express his gratification that the famous detective was at work on the case.

The solicitor, General Hugh M. Dorsey refused to discuss any phase of the Frank case and would make no comment when told of the report that Burns would seek his co-operation in his investigation.

The detectives who worked on the Frank case are almost constantly with the solicitor, who is said to be preparing to fight Frank's extraordinary mention in the vigorous manner in which he has conducted the entire case.

Burns will back into the case, the solicitor general and the various city detectives who worked up the case against Frank, it is said.

Federal District Court

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Missouri supreme court threw back today to the supreme court a decision it had reached last June that the 52-cent passenger law and the 10-cent baggage law were not so conflicting as to certain roads, that the federal district court for western Missouri, that court, recently held it had no jurisdiction to hear the case.

The railroad today docketed an appeal from that ruling.

A resolution requesting the board of police commissioners to order the vice squad abolished and the men of the police department uniformed as firemen was introduced in the general assembly by Sen. James R. Lee of the Fifth ward, St. Louis, last night. The measure was unanimously tabled. No action was taken by the Missouri state councilmen. JOURNAL EDITORIAL STILL SUBJECT OF INDORSEMENT

Scores of Leading Citizens Demand New Trial for Leo
M. Frank

The voluntary written response on the part of the public to The Journal's editorial declaration that "Frank Should Have a New Trial" indicates beyond the question of a doubt that the sentimentals and convictions expressed in that editorial have met with a widespread indorsement.

This editorial, appeared in The Journal of last Tuesday and every day since then scores of commendatory letters have been received by the paper and its editor. These letters come from people of all walks of life—ministers, college professors, bankers, lawyers, doctors, editors, merchants, insurance men, real estate men, clerks and laborers.

From day to day The Journal has published some of these letters. There are so many of them that it is impossible to publish them all. But one of the letters found another indorsement of these letters.

FROM C. L. ELYZA.
Charles L. Elyza, president of the Atlanta company, expresses himself as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., March 14, 1914.
Mr. James H. Gray, City.

Dear Mr. Gray: I wish to express my great appreciation of your editorial of Tuesday in reference to the Frank trial. I am thoroughly convinced that even the most respectable individual will not approve but applaud your action.

I could not conceive that public officials and newspapers were so sensitive to public opinion. It is the duty of the press to speak their convictions and the most respected and the most influential in their respective spheres and I am sure that your editorial will be great, both as to the approval of those who read it and to your own conscience. Yours very truly,

FROM J. A. TIPPON.
J. A. Tipton, of the Ray-Tipton company, writes as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., March 12, 1914.
Mr. James H. Gray, City.

Editor Atlanta Journal.
Atlanta, Ga.
My Dear Mr. Gray: Allow me, please, to thank you for the strong and clear logical editorial dealing with the question of a new trial for Leo M. Frank.

I do not know Frank; I have never seen him. He may be guilty, but personally, I have never so believed. The evidence as given in the trial was so contradictory that I am sure that a verdict was impossible, but following it, day by day, I have seen the evidence—and it is a matter of fact record, that Judge Roon so felt.

The state of Georgia owes to itself the granting of a new trial. When further removed from the actual happening, the intensity of the prejudice which unquestionably existed being in a measure modified, there exists an opportunity to consider the evidence—also as well as the law—free from the influence of the day's news so hotly insistent, and a fair and just verdict to be found. A thing which I do not think was possible at the former trial, by reason of the intense hostility of the mob.

Very truly yours,
J. A. TIPPON.

FROM SAM L. OLIVE.
Sam L. Olive, member of the legislature from Rich County, and a leading attorney of Augusta, writes as follows:

Augusta, Ga., March 14, 1914.
Hon. James H. Gray,
Editor Atlanta Journal,
Atlanta, Ga.

My Dear Mr. Gray: I have read your splendid editorial on the Frank case. The personal fate of Frank is of greatest interest to himself, his friends and relatives; but the deep principle discussed by you is of interest to every citizen of this commonwealth. You man should be a fair trial. In a community where the trial must be suspended at times for fear of public violence.

His guilt or innocence should be judicially ascertained from the untransmitted testimony of credible witnesses, and the trial should be held in an atmosphere unclouded by public prejudice.

Adding one horror to another neutralizes the effect of neither. Guilty or innocent, he is entitled to have "his day in court." A day in which the "sunlight of truth" shines. This given, the letter and spirit of the law will have been satisfied. "Obedience is better than sacrifice."

It required that degree of courage which defies calumny to write your editorial, and I congratulate you.

Sincerely yours,
SAM L. OLIVE.

FROM DR. WILLIAM GREENHAW.
Dr. William Greenhaw, dean of the Atlanta Dental college, writes as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., March 14, 1914.
Editor Journal.

I am glad of the opportunity to express my appreciation of your editorial favoring a new trial for Leo M. Frank.

I am among those who doubt the verdict against Mr. Frank in so far as it is predicated upon the evidence and testimony of the negro Jim Conner, who is a self-confessed liar admitted publicly on the stand.

I sincerely trust a new trial can be had and the real murderer found. Very truly,
WILLIAM GREENHAW.

FROM J. C. McKEE.
J. C. McKee, candidate of the Bank of West Point, writes:

West Point, Ga., March 12, 1914.
Hon. James H. Gray,
Atlanta Journal,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—In the matter of the Frank case, which has attracted much attention from all sources on account of the peculiar conditions surrounding the horrible crime, the opinion of out-of-town people has been governed to a large extent by the overflow of feeling and prejudice from "hearsay" evidence.

It is human nature to believe that which we are keyed up to believe, and as we all know, it is easier to believe that which is "public opinion" and handed out by everyone as "facts" than to stand aside and analyze true conditions, thus, we can see how a jury can reach a verdict in the face of lack of evidence.

However, we are too far away from the scene to be able to see the case as it really is.

Gov. O'Neal Suspends Sentence So Convicted Man May Make Crop

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 17.—Because Jim Tankersley had no one to care for his crop while he served three months for assault and battery, Governor O'Neal yesterday suspended the execution of the sentence until July 10, Tankersley was convicted in Tallapoosa county. He had several persons dependent on him and no one to care for his crop. In the parole Governor O'Neal said "suspended the sentence until July 10, in order that he may make his crop."

The solicitor general or Conley's attorney, William M. Smith, to meet a hearing of the motion.

Motions generally are heard in the criminal division of the superior court on Saturdays and it is possible, although not probable, that one of the interested attorneys will seek a hearing of the Conley motion next Saturday. Until the motion is heard, Conley naturally remains in the lower, and if the motion is denied, his attorney will appeal to the supreme court, and this appeal will seek the execution of the chaining sentence.

Attorney Heuben R. Arnold, of the Frank defense, is in Washington engaged in the trial of a case before the United States supreme court. He is expected to return to the city Wednesday or Thursday, and with the other attorneys engaged in the defense will resume work the extraordinary motion for a new trial for the convicted man.

BIG ESTATE DISPOSED OF IN TEN WORDS

TRIDENT, March 17.—The late Judge G. D. W. Vroom, of the New Jersey court of errors and appeals, owned ten words to dispose of his estate valued at between $150,000 and $200,000. Mr. Will, filed in the office of the surrogate yesterday is a single sentence: "I give all my property, whatsoever kind, to my wife."

From the center of interest to undertake to discuss the matter save from one standpoint, that is, the obligation which we are due to our fellow man. Your very able and clear-cut editorial of last Tuesday placed the case before the public in such a way that it can be seen from all angles, and it is a noble appeal to us in a more positive way than anything we have previously seen on the subject. At this time we can but believe that this man should have a trial based on evidence and not public feeling.

Very truly,
F. A. MCKINIE, Cashier.

COVINGTON POLICEMAN IS EXPECTED TO RECOVER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
COVINGTON, Ga., March 17.—Police man Wick Williamson, whose throat was cut by Ralph Sheppard last night, following the arrest of his brother, Charlie Sheppard, is expected to recover. The Sheppard brothers are in jail and have no statement to make. They have made no effort to make head.

Glasgow Surgeon Says Single Brain Cell May Control Two Functions

LONDON, March 17.—The Times reports the result of important nerve grafting experiments recently carried out by Prof. Robert Kennedy, of Glasgow, proving conclusively, it is declared, that a brain cell may be taught to perform two separate functions.

Each nerve communicates with a particular set of brain cells which control its activities. It was supposed that these cells were able to perform only the functions allotted to them by nature.

Dr. Kennedy made experiments on the fusing of a dog. He severed all the nerves connecting with the muscles below the joint and then connected all these muscles to the group of nerves controlling flexion or bending.

The dog was for sometime unable to direct or co-ordinate its movements. Gradually, however, this power returned and was completely regained.

The possible applications of the discovery are very wide. For example, the nerves of a paralyzed or useless limb, the functions of which have been lost because of some injury or to disease of the brain, if connected to the nerve trunk leading to a healthy part of that organ, might again receive and convey stimuli.

CONVENTION IS PLANNED TO BOOST APPLE INDUSTRY

For the purpose of enlisting the aid of the Georgia chamber of commerce for a big convention in Cornelia, March 18 to demonstrate the possibilities of the north Georgia apple, a delegation from the chamber of Cornelia will meet President C. J. Haden in Atlanta Monday.

The delegation was headed by William R. Harbison. The other members were J. W. Peyton, J. L. Roper, secretary of the Cornelia chamber of commerce, and Senator J. T. Peyton, of the thirty-first state senatorial district. The delegates stated many prominent men are expected to attend the convention.

All the delegates were enthusiastic over the possibilities of the apple industry in north Georgia.

YOUR MONEY

Whose Agent Is the Investment Banker?
By JOHN M. OSKISON

From a well-considered report of the interstate commerce commission on the bankruptcy of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad company this is quoted:

"The sale of securities to the investing public through the bankers at a time when every appearance indicated the insolvency of the issuing company invites and warrants comdenation of all those who assisted or participated in such sale. . . . The bankers should have been aware of the poverty of the Frisco and its difficulties in obtaining funds."

To such criticism the bankers who raised the last amount of money for

Then they added:

"If a banking firm is to run the risk of being censured because it steps forward and gives financial assistance

This is about as plain a statement as you are ever likely to see that the big bankers, who arrange loans for the railroads and other corporations, are primarily the agents of the corporations. They are not, first of all, interested in whether the bonds based upon the corporation's promise to repay the loan are a good investment for the people who put up the

You investors must understand that I would not suggest that the Frisco's bankers would willingly sell securities which they knew were not to be classed as real investments; but here is the record to show that they thought first of their obligation to

They will always do it. It is how they get their biggest profit. The big private banker is the agent of the big corporation, which has to raise great sums of money from the public. The big corporation pays good commissions to the banker, who gets it

WANTS $25,000 FOR LOSS OF ARM ON SOUTHERN

Sam Black, a young Atlanta man on Tuesday entered suit in the superior court at Carrollton asking $25,000 damages from the Southern railway for the alleged loss of an arm in a railway accident there.

According to the petition, which was filed by Attorney Lawton Nally, the accident occurred on January 15 of this year.

Tuesday was an ideal spring day. It was neither too warm nor too cold, and everybody, even the chronic grouches, seemed pleased with the weather man's success in giving Atlanta a fine, fair-weather day according to his forecast.

Just to be agreeable he promises another equally lovely day on Wednesday. The forecast is for fair weather Tuesday night and Wednesday with but little change of temperature, which means the mercury will stand at about 56 degrees early in the morning and rise to about 70 by 10 o'clock.

J. R. SEAWRIGHT ELECTED AS FIRST WARD ALDERMAN

J. N. Renfro, Opposing Candidate, Retired When He Saw He Couldn't Be Elected

General council Monday afternoon elected J. R. Seawright an alderman from the First ward to the place made vacant by the death of John H. Harwood. J. N. Renfro, who was a candidate against Mr. Seawright, retired at the last moment when he saw he could not be elected. His campaign manager, Connelton Jesse M. Wood, said that of the votes he had counted on were absent, the two being Connelton, J. A. Knight and Connelton Sam S. Shepard. Mr. Renfro's retirement left a clear way for Mr. Seawright and his name was the only one placed in nomination. He got the unanimous vote of those present, which was twenty-five.

When the result had been declared by Mayor Woodward, who presides over council by council, Mr. Seawright was escorted within the railing of council and the mayor swore him in, which he took his seat and participated in the balance of the council proceedings.

A vacancy in general council by death, resignation or otherwise is filled by general council until the next regular city election. There is a regular city election every December. The last election Harwood's term runs until January 1, 1915. Thus Mr. Seawright will serve for the remainder of 1914 in his present seat, but in order to serve in 1915 he must be elected by the people.

PHYSICIANS KNOW

Usually Sickness Begins with Torpid Liver and Constipation.

And that's the trouble. Constipation should never be neglected. Why? All food eaten has some indigestible parts which the liver cleans away day by day. An over-supply or a change in your habits sometimes causes the liver to neglect a few particles, which remain in the stomach and make it more difficult the next day for the liver to do its cleansing work. So this waste accumulates and causes constipation. That is all. If the waste is not eliminated, it ferments and generates uric acid, a poisonous substance which is sent into the blood stream and is carried along through the system to poison it. Self-poisoning or auto-intoxication, this is termed medically.

When uric acid is deposited in the joints and muscles you have rheumatism when it touches the nerves, neuralgia, paralysis, nervous prostration, and poisonous irritation of the delicate

FULTON, BIBB, RICHMOND LEAD AUTO REGISTRATION

Chatham County Is Far Behind and Owners Are Liable for Fine

Fulton, Bibb and Richmond counties are leading in the new automobile registration, says Secretary of State Phil B. Cook, and accordingly are causing the officials less trouble than any other counties in the state. Chatham county, says Mr. Cook, is way behind, and unless automobile owners in Savannah take out their licenses at once they are liable to prosecution and fine for a misdemeanor.

Mr. Cook declared that only a very few of the people know there is a penalty attached for enforcement of the law, and accordingly many motorists are paying $20 for a $5 license, arising from the fine of $25 that is now being assessed.

Miss Eleanor Wilson and Secretary of Treasury, Whose Engagement Is Announced at White House

Reports of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, to William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, have proved true. For the White House has made the announcement, having been compelled, perhaps, to make an early statement because of the persistence of the reports in Washington.

That the announcement of Miss Eleanor's engagement should be made on Friday, the 13th, is regarded as significant of the defiance which the Wilson family has always shown to the superstition against Friday the 13th.

Secretary McAdoo and the president's daughter have been together at many a dance and social function. Though Secretary McAdoo is fifty years old and Miss Wilson is twenty-four, intimate friends of the secretary declare he is "as young as a man of thirty." He is fond of tennis and outdoor sports and played tennis often on the White House courts with Miss Wilson last spring and fall. Miss Wilson is athletic, a good horsewoman, and delights in outdoor life.

A variety of kinds to select from and all regularly priced here at $1.25. You may buy them tomorrow at 98c each. Maids' dresses included.

How to Make the Best Cough Remedy at Home

A Family Supply at Small Cost, and Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one cup of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Add 2 1/2 ounces of pure Pinex (five cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough remedy at a saving of 85. It never spoils, and takes a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold almost instantly, and will usually cure an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It tones up the faded appetite and is as laxative enough to be helpful in spasmodic asthma, whooping cough and asthmatic croup.

This method of making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or creamed honey) is now used in more homes than any other cough syrup. It is explained why it is often imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, you only genuine Pinex, which is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is in guaranteed and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, write to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The ladies' society of the R. N. Y. M. C. A. will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday, March 18, at 7 p. m., at the home of Mrs. W. H. Rose, 36 Taylor street, in West End.

Persons whose birthdate it is have an unfavorable augury for the year, which probably will bring about family misunderstandings. Changes are not likely to be advantageous.

Children born on this day may be impetuous and quick-tempered. Boys should be strictly disciplined for their own good, as they have the propensity to lose through carelessness.

From the lone cabin on the trackless prairie—from the snowy wastes of Alaska—from the mining camp amidst the pines of the lofty Sierras—from the coral strand of an island in the far Pacific, so remote that the ships come only once a year (if they do not forget)—from the garrets of London and Paris, with only the stars of the Southern Cross for Every song in this wonderful book has had some sacred memory—some touching experience—some sweet and hallowed association—connected with it in the hearts of thousands. It is their song of joy—of sorrow—of thanksgiving—of love—of bereavement sentiments that lift the human heart in worship to its Maker. It is for this—by inspiration—that this
